

REGENTS EXAMINATIONS

1. Although students' graded Regents examinations cannot be reviewed in class, students have the right to examine their test papers upon request.
2. Each secondary school shall establish procedures to make Regents examination papers available for student review for one year from the date of testing.
3. Should a student retake a Regents examination, the student's transcript shall reflect only the highest score obtained.